om win*without*war: “The war machine won’t wait until the new Congress is sworn in January. So we can’t, either. Here are just one of our plans to build a bigger, more powerful movement to win without war this year:

- Drown out Saudi Arabia’s 200 lobbyists with our people power and win votes in Congress to finally cut off U.S. support for the disastrous Saudi-led war in Yemen
- Take on the Iran war hawks and build roadblocks to stop the disastrous war they want
- Block torturers, hatemongers, and bigots from jobs in the federal government, and stand in solidarity with communities facing hate and violence
- Launch a bold new vision for a federal budget that invests in peace, not war
- Ensure that new members of Congress and their staff hear from you, not just arms makers, foreign influence peddlers, and other powerful special interests”

om World BEYOND War: “Armistice Day Statement
The Armistice of 1918 ended the terrible slaughter of World War I. The U.S. alone had experienced the death of over 116,000 soldiers, plus many more who were physically and mentally disabled. For one omen, at the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month, the world agreed World War I must be considered the WAR TO END ALL WARS. There was exuberant joy everywhere, as many churches rang their bells, some 11 a.m. on November 11, when the Armistice was signed. For many years practice endured, when slowly, it faded away. Now we do it again. We ring the bells 11 times, with a moment of silence, to remember the many soldiers and civilians killed and injured by warfare, and to make our vow commitment to work for peace, in our milly, our church, our community, our nation, our world. OD [Great Spirit/Elohim/Allah/Hu/Bah’/rishna/Aum/ Ram/Ahura Mazda]
BLESS THE ENTIRE WORLD.”

om PopularResistance.org: “Black Alliance for Peace has a petition calling on the wealthy person into a position of huge power. And somebody is going to lead them down the wrong creek unless you steer. And that’s the basic citizenship that all of us hate, but it’s gotta be done.”

from American Friends Service Committee (AFSC): “4 things you can do to stand with the caravan: Here’s how you can speak out against anti-immigrant rhetoric and call on our elected officials to protect the rights and dignity of all immigrants.

1. Click here to publicly comment on Trump’s proposed rule. It’s titled “Apprehension, Processing, Care, and Custody of Alien Minors and Unaccompanied Alien Children.”
2. Tell the government to reject any regulation that would allow the detention of immigrant children and families. Use your own words and write from your own values and experiences. Here are some points to consider:
   - Keeping children in detention causes lasting trauma.
   - Detention cannot be carried out humanely.
   - Indefinite detention of immigrant families violates human rights, fosters abuse and mistreatment, and is expensive, impractical, and unnecessary.
   - Protecting basic human rights is not a loophole.

Comments must be submitted by Tuesday, Nov. 6. Tell the government today: No more family detention.”
