WASHINGTON -- A federal court ruled Tuesday that Vietnam veterans who served on ships offshore during the war are eligible for benefits to treat illnesses linked to exposure to the chemical herbicide Agent Orange*. -- a decision that has the potential to extend help to thousands of veterans. The Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit ruled 9-2 in favor of Alfred Procopio, Jr., 73, who served on the USS Intrepid during the Vietnam War. Procopio is one of tens of thousands of "Blue Water" Navy veterans who served aboard aircraft carriers, destroyers and other ships and were deemed ineligible for the same disability benefits as those veterans who served on the ground and inland waterways. 50,000 to 70,000 veterans could now become eligible for benefits... it will require the allocation of $1.8 billion in fiscal 2019 and $5.7 billion over 10 years. military.com

Victims of Agent Orange Relief Act of 2015 was reintroduced in Congress Feb. 1, 2019, by CA Rep. Barbara Lee. Per Veterans For Peace, this is "an initiative of U.S. veterans, Vietnamese Americans, and all concerned about peace and justice. We insist our government honor its moral and legal responsibility to provide assistance to all AO victims--Vietnamese, U.S. veterans and our children, and others—and to the mitigate the environmental damage in Vietnam... We are currently working to get cosponsors for the bill, and urge anyone interested in this effort to call on us...The U.S. government used 15 different herbicides, collectively known as Agent Orange, from 1962 to 1971, as part of its war in Vietnam to deny the enemy forces jungle cover and to destroy crops to drive the peasantry into refugee camps or cities. Agent Orange contained a contaminant, dioxin, one of the deadliest substances known, that continues to kill and sicken and estimated three million Vietnamese and many U.S. veterans of the Vietnam War. Some children of exposed U.S. veterans, Vietnamese, and Vietnamese Americans have been born with birth defects due to their parents' exposures. Moreover, even several decades after the war, Agent Orange remains in the land and water of Vietnam, causing illness within the Vietnamese population and sometimes horrific birth defects to several generations of children." ****************************

H.R. 717: To amend title 18, United States Code, to prohibit a Federal firearms licensee from selling or delivering certain semiautomatic centerfire rifles to a person under 21 years of age, with exceptions for active duty military personnel and [certain others] Under current law, one has to be 21 to purchase a handgun, but only 18 to purchase a semi-automatic assault rifle. This discrepancy was highlighted when last year’s 19-year-old Parkland, Florida high school shooter legally purchased the semi-automatic weapon he used to carry out the shooting. Since then, several states increased their semi-automatic age to 21...”

from Northern Alaska Environmental Center: “...January 30, BLM announced... the Fairbanks public hearing on the Draft EIS for oil and gas leasing in the Coastal Plain...Monday, Feb. 4 [as above]... See our talking points here. See the complete meeting schedule here. Additionally, if you are an Alaska business owner, please sign on to this open letter to Dept of Interior leadership, the Alaska delegation, as well as the BLM public record. Share widely with your friends and colleagues, and make it clear that Alaska business owners understand that drilling in the Coastal Plain is bad for our communities, our planet, and our economy.

“And, you can write an op-ed or letter to the editor (LTE) sharing your reasons for supporting continued protections in the Coastal Plain; for inspiration, see Carolyn Kremer’s recent op-ed here.

“And for some great tips on writing LTEs and op-eds, and other ways we can participate in the public process, check out the recording of Alyssa Quintyne’s presentation Build Your Voice on Facebook. (LTE & op-ed tips start around minute 23:00).”

“...The Dept of Natural Resources (DNR) has released their proposed decision to grant Donlin Gold right-of-way (ROW) for a proposed 315 mile long natural gas pipeline from Cook Inlet to the mine site ten miles north or Crooked Creek. The ROW would permanently impact approximately 3,750 acres of state land and cross hundreds of streams and rivers.

“DNR has announced a 60 day comment period and a series of public hearings ending March 29th. The last public hearing [that] DNR held related to Donlin was for the Reclamation Plan Approval and Waste Management Permit in Bethel. The agency later had to issue a public apology for their rude, dismissive attitude during the meeting. Still, their written responses to comments showed that this attitude persisted despite the apology, largely ignoring suggestions and concerns voiced by residents of Bethel, Napaskiak, Kalskag, and Kwigglingok who had traveled from all over the region to testify.

“The federal National Environmental Policy Act and the associated Environmental Impact Statement failed by not adequately incorporating the voices of the residents of the Kuskokwim. The EIS didn’t require Donlin to build or operate the mine to the highest of environmental standards like Dry Stacked tailings, limit barge traffic...

January 31, 2019 by davidswanson Congress Finds its War Powers and Weaknesses -It’s possible that the U.S. Congress will for the first time use the War Powers Resolution of 1973 to end a war — the one on Yemen. This would be wonderful. There are some caveats.

The bill now in both houses has outrageous and truly bizarre loopholes in it. Some of its supporters last year were apparently pretending to support it ...

What worries me are the other several current wars and dozens of permanent occupations, and Congressional efforts to impose a ban on ending them. Bills have now been introduced to prevent the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Syria or South Korea to anything below certain levels, unless numerous conditions are met...

Good News category (with more still needing to be done):

JROTC Shooting Ranges Removed from Two Schools

On February 14, 2018, the unthinkable but all-too-common happened. A mass shooting occurred at the Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School in Parkland, Florida. Rumors about the identity of the shooter were that he was a former student who had been in JROTC. One week later, on Democracy Now, Amy Goodman's guest was Pat Elder, the director of the National Coalition to Protect Student Privacy. This organization works to counter the access that the military has to students in high schools. Mr. Elder went on to state that the shooter was trained in the marksmanship program at the same high school.

...See our Action Alert here (note that it was written prior to recent extension)."
It could save you 44 µg/dL was reported in a man aged 62 years who coached a high school shooting team in central Alaska. This report summarised per Project Yano (Project on Youth & Non-Military Opportunities), “Schools nationwide are required to maintain a zero tolerance policy toward firearms, and the presence of firing ranges on school grounds is a direct contradiction to that.” M-1’s and CMP and Lead January 03, 2012 Report by Pat Elder -

In 2002, Youth shooting programs at the Tanana Valley (AK) Sportsmen's Association... shooting range have been halted after 10 members of the Lathrop High School rifle team were found to have high concentrations of lead in their blood. http://www.shootersforum.com/general-discussion/4292-indoor-shooting-ranges-proper-ventilation.html >Blood lead screening in Alaska shows dangerous levels associated with school firing ranges. http://www.cdc.gov/mmwr/preview/mmwrhtml/mm5423a1.htm "... During 2002–2004, the Alaska Environmental Public Health Program conducted lead-exposure assessments of school-based indoor shooting teams in the state, after a BLL of 44 µg/dL was reported in a man aged 62 years who coached a high school shooting team in central Alaska. This report summarises the results of the investigation of potential lead exposure in 66 members of shooting teams, aged 7–19 years, who used five indoor firing ranges..."

Although outdoor firing ranges put more lead into the environment than nearly any other major industrial sector in the United States, they remain almost entirely unregulated. In just two years a typical outdoor firing range can have lead contamination equivalent to a five-acre Superfund site. http://noflac.org/http://noflac.org/lead/

Sarnia's pollution issues continue - the best MSM report: https://globalnews.ca/video/3802806/canadas-toxic-secret-a-troubling-trend-of-leaks-and-spills-in-the-sarnia-area Closer to home, similar health risks continue. The presence of harmful chemicals in Fairbanks' water, at levels slightly above/below various EPA-established thresholds (i.e., established only after industry lobbyists mitigate any regulatory impacts):https://www.nytimes.com/interactive/projects/toxic-waters/contaminants/ak/fairbanks-north-star/ak2310730-golden-heart-utilities/index.html https://www.akwater.com/cuc-ccr.pdf Fascinating that after the Trump Administration initially advocated slashing endocrine disruptor regs, then fast-tracked the research, then just 47 minutes ago, the EWG announced the Trump Administration is backing off: https://www.ewg.org/release/sources-trump-epa-won-t-set-drinking-water-limit-pfas-chemicals

Note Chemical and Engineering News is the same industry trade journal I'd seen at work, which first alerted me to the health problems caused by water fluoridation. This got me highly engaged with Douglas Yates's peer-reviewed-science campaign that turned around the skeptics, eventually halting Fairbanks's water fluoridation in 2011. -ED from Douglas Yates:” Chemical Pollution: Abnormal Birth Rates in Canadian Native Reserve-Dow, Bayer, Shell, Lanxess, Suncor in the area Epoch Times, Jun 09, 2006 - http://www.cbgnetwork.org/4.html ... Canada: Facilities Ordered To Take Action To Ensure Safe Operation... Canada: Bayer, Shell running afoul of provincial laws”

Hello this is Rob Mulford with the Asymmetric Moose Music Picks for the week of February 3rd, 2019. This week in honor of KWRK-LP’s third anniversary on the air I have selected, for my first tune, a song about something we are not, purveyors of lip-smacking sugar coated subterfuge-oozing deteriorata for capital and the state, the tune is I’m The Slime by Frank Zappa and the Mothers if Invention.

Next is a haunting tune about a hateful viciousness that despairingly still stocks this country today; Nina Simone sings Mississippi Goddam.

And speaking of hateful viciousness coated with mainstream-media sprinkled sugar, in the following tune Bruce Cockburn sings about the US’s lethal, world-wide distribution of corporate interests. The song is Call It Democracy. Afghanistan, Iraq, Libya, and maybe Venezuela anyone.

Richie Havens called the following song, “The most powerful anti-war / anti-injustice song ever written”. I’d like to think that I have the courage to call it my mantra. The tune is Peter Paul and Mary’s – The Great Mandala.
