Next Week
| Sunday December 1 | FNA’s 3.1 Residential Treatment Center Grand Opening: This new facility will offer a 30 day transition from treatment. |
| Tuesday December 3 |  John Dear’s Peace Podcast: monthly podcast. On the first day of each month, Pace e Bene posts a free, new podcast featuring Fr. John Dear reflecting on some aspect of nonviolence. You can also access past podcasts via the link. |
| Tuesday December 3 |  “Nationwide Vigils & Events to #EndGunViolence” - Dec 14, 2019, marks the 7-yr anniversary of the Sandy Hook tragedy. By this December, over 700,000 Americans will have been killed or injured by guns since the Sandy Hook shooting tragedy. We urge you to join the gun violence prevention community in our collective effort to continue to shine a light on the devastating epidemic of gun violence in our nation until Congress takes meaningful action to reduce gun deaths and injuries in our nation.” |
| Tuesday December 3 | #GivingTuesday is coming up on Tuesday, December 3. As a response to the consumerism of "Black Friday" in the U.S., #GivingTuesday is a global day of giving back to support the causes that are most dear to us. Millions of people participate in this global movement, which transcends borders and ideologies. In today's increasingly divided world, #GivingTuesday brings people together in the spirit of generosity and giving. |
| Wednesday 5:30pm | Fairbanks Open Radio weekly mtg - Come help with programming, shows, fund-raising... info@kwrk.org or 374-0577 |

<td>Dec. 18</td>
<td>12-3pm Oil Discharge Prevention and Contingency Plan Public Scoping Michael Munger of the Cook Inlet Regional Citizens Advisory Council writes here. “Weakening or eliminating oil spill prevention and response requirements to ease a perceived “burden” on industry effectively transfers the risks of transporting oil onto the backs of communities, fishermen, subsistence users and citizens who depend on clean coastal waters. A great many people worked hard to establish a level of protection from oil spills, which was nonexistent before March 24, 1989. Clearly, we have to marshal our forces again. To say now, after 30 years, the regulations are suddenly too burdensome, is frustrating and warrants a strong response.” from NAEC</td>

Good News category:

“Libyan City, Primed for War, Answers Mother’s Plea with Peace Pact - As tribes faced off for battle in a quickening cycle of violence, a mother schooled in dialogue calmed anger over her son’s death... [B]oth the Tuareg and Tebu [had begun] stockpiling weapons and scouting strategic positions for a battle... She said that she had phoned and even interrupted influential Tebu leaders who were meeting in preparation for conflict, calling for calm... [O]n Sept. 21, the United Nation’s annual International Peace Day... members of different tribes in Ubari publicly committed to peace... It almost certainly prevented an outbreak of active conflict in Ubari... Plans for post-dialogue activity include forming school-based mothers’ councils to monitor student violence... Fatima had been trying to push the city in a more peaceful direction through involvement with USIP’s Community-Based Dialogues for Reconciliation project. Her apparent success in averting violence shows that efforts for peace don’t need to begin at the national level. A dedicated group of individuals engaging their communities can contribute significantly to the wider effort for peace...” excerpted from The Olive Branch, the blog of U.S. Institute of Peace, 11-13-19. Ongoing Campaigns, Recent Past Events, Issues not specific to Alaska, and/or without specific date, related to Peace Justice Sustainability

“Proposed U.S. Department of Peacebuilding (bill H.R. 1111) is currently before the U.S. House of Representatives... This historic measure will augment our current problem-solving options, providing practical, nonviolent solutions to the problems of domestic and international conflict. The legislation will pass from bill to law under one condition: that a wave of citizen interest rise up from the American people and make itself heard in the halls of Congress. During the 20th Century, over 100 million people lost their lives to war — most of whom were non-combatants.” Find out more at https://peacealliance.org/issues-advocacy/department-of-peace/.

Can we get our elected officials to commit to the Blueprint for Peace? These would be first steps: Humanize Justice Systems; Empower Community Interventions; Teach Peace in Schools; Enhance Personal and Interpersonal Support; Foster International Peace. “URGENT CALL TO ACTION: Support the UN Resolution Against Economic Sanctions! (Unilateral Coercive Measures)
1. Urges the international community to adopt urgent and effective measures to eliminate the use of unilateral economic, financial or trade measures that are not authorized by relevant organs of the United Nations, that are inconsistent with the principles of international law or the Charter of the United Nations...;
2. Calls upon the international community to condemn and reject the imposition of the use of such measures as a means of political and economic coercion against developing countries...; (to read the full text of the draft resolution click here)

“Getting Ahead In a Just Getting By World training: Applications are now being accepted for Getting Ahead classes, which are for those who feel stuck in their circumstances and are ready for change. Getting Ahead in a Just-Gettin’-By World is a step-by-step process for people who live in or near poverty, giving individuals the opportunity to investigate their lives on their own terms. During sixteen 2-hour sessions, Getting Ahead participants discover why they are in their situation, develop a plan to get themselves to a more stable life, and begin to build relationships that will help ensure sustainability as they go. The first class starts January 20th at The Bridge (607 4th Ave) from 12 - 2:30 pm. Lunch and childcare will be provided along with bus tokens. Sign up at http://bit.ly/GettingAheadFBX,” from Fbks Homeless&Housing Coalition

“Solving the climate crisis depends on transitioning our economy to clean energy. Tell your representative to support the 100% Clean Energy Economy Act as an original cosponsor >> To build upon the incredible work going on in Alaska - it’s critical that we also advance bold legislation at the federal level to further limit the use of dirty fossil fuels and advance a just transition to clean energy. The 100% Clean Energy Economy Act will support and expand action already being taken at the local level by cities, communities, and businesses across Alaska to limit carbon pollution that’s contributing to climate change.” from The Alaska Center

“Veterans For Peace’s Executive Director, Garett Reppenhagen took action today for climate justice with #FireDrillFriday. The environment has long been a silent casualty of war and armed conflict. If we are going to win on climate, Veterans For Peace knows that we all must make the connections between the environment and militarism... [This past Friday, Nov. 22.] Fire Drill Friday [was] all about WATER. There will be many impacts of climate change, but among the most important are impacts on water resources. The key impacts will be changes in rain and snow, rising temperatures and hence rising demand for water, especially to grow food, worsening water quality, and worse extreme events including floods and droughts that overload systems built for more stable weather patterns—all of which could contribute to increased militarization as the climate becomes more unstable and access to resources are limited. Audio & Songs broadcast with this week’s Community News and Opportunities:

-- “Hello, this is Rob Mulford the Asymmetric Moose with picks for the week of November 24, 2019. In a few days it will be Thanksgiving Day, a holiday founded on the Pilgrim’s mythic piety and promoting American, read settler, insular self-adulating exceptionalism. But hey, I see no problem with being thankful. I’m thankful for having such a caring, thoughtful, and warm-hearted partner, I’m thankful for being an Alaskan, and for all my relatives: the four legged, the ones who swim in the water, fly in the sky, even those that buzz near my eye. I’m thankful for the ones who slither, the grass, trees, flowers, fungi, and oh yeah, the two legged, furbearing or no. And, I’m thankful our beautiful blue mother earth. And, I got to admit I’m kind of fond of fond of turkey too.

Speaking of that afore mentioned mythic piety, this week I have woven together several audio clips from the documentary video, The Doctrine of Discovery - Unmasking The Domination Code, written and produced by Shawnee, Lenape scholar and author, co-founder and co-director of the Indigenous Law Institute Steven Newcomb. The video is vitally important and should be seen and studied for its truthful historical and current relevance.

You can purchase a copy for $21.50 USD. To order the film send a check or money order to: 38 Plus 2 Productions 40163 Reservation Hwy 3, Morton MN, 56270”
