"Call to action: Net metering is under attack. Comment by June 15. Net metering is how a utility determines billing for a customer’s retail electric service, taking into account electricity generated (e.g., thru rooftop solar PV)...There is currently a petition before the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) asking it to assume federal control over ALL state net metering programs, invalidate all state net metering statutes and regulations, and cap the value... would end net metering as we know it across 40-plus states, including Alaska. For GVEA SNAP-Plus producers, this would cut the value of solar PV produced power by half.

Submit comments to FERC on Docket EL20-42. Tell them to deny this petition and retain state jurisdiction over net metering.

Comment thru eFiling, which requires creating an account, or by snail mail at:
Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 888 First Street, NE, Washington, DC 20426.

This is a confusing issue and comment process. If you want more information, contact Lisa at lisa@northern.org."

OTHER News and Opportunities for Action:

June 12 was "Loving Day," marking the Supreme Court's 1967 decision striking down all bans on interracial marriage. There is a movie about it. Let's listen to Nanci Griffith's song "The Loving Kind".

from Me. Now imagine being in that situation with a food-allergic child... fear for the safety of food-allergic children is going to be compounded by the FDA's latest announcement, made at the behest of the food industry. Disruptions in the food supply chain due to the COVID-19 pandemic have created some problems for the food industry. The industry sought—and received—relief from the FDA; they are now allowing some ingredient substitutions without mandating a change in labeling. These changes were made without opportunity for public comment, according to the FDA, because of the exigency of the situation. Furthermore, the changes may stay in effect for an indeterminate period of time after the pandemic is deemed under control.

"Labeling of gluten and the major eight allergens (peanuts, tree nuts, milk, eggs, soy, wheat, fish, and crustacean shellfish) cannot change under the new guidelines. The FDA also advised "consideration" of major food allergens recognized in other countries (sesame, celery, lupin, buckwheat, molluscan shellfish, and mustard). Of these, lupin is known to cross-react with peanut, and sesame seed allergy is increasingly prevalent. In fact, the FDA has considered adding it to the list of major allergens...

from AKPIRG (Alaska Public Interest Research Group): "Keep Our Communities Healthy - President Trump has nominated a chemical industry lobbyist to head the Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC). On June 16, the Senate will convene a hearing on Trump’s nomination of Nancy Beck to head CPSC. Tell our senators to oppose this nomination. Tell them we need an advocate for consumers, not the chemical industry.

"Extend a halt to evictions. Freeze debt collection payments. How we move forward out of crises shapes our communities for decades to come. According to [Anchorage] Mayor Berkowitz’s Economic Resiliency Task Force, experts are anticipating an “eviction tsunami” after June 30th. Although there is no definitive estimate for the number of potential evictions, Alaska is anticipating approximately 100,000 jobless claims by the end of May, and nearly a third of renters were unable to pay their April rent nationwide. Help support Alaskans through this crisis. Tell our Governor and Attorney General to protect Alaskans. >>

"There are indisputable patterns of police departments systematically lacking systems of effective accountability for inappropriate behavior. Between 2013-2019, Alaska had the second-highest rate of police killings of Black people (per capita) in the entire country. Incarceration rates reflect a similar overrepresentation of People of Color. A 2010 study from the Prison Policy Initiative found that (per 100,000 people in that racial/ethnic group) 1,294 Black people and 1,506 Alaska Native people were incarcerated. This is compared to 370 white people. [AKPIRG is] providing a platform for individuals to share their story about how police brutality and violence have impacted their lives. We have started a story bank, linked here... These stories will be used for advocacy purposes, with personally identifying information removed for safety. Sharing a traumatic encounter isn’t something we take lightly. We want to make sure that these stories are heard, make an impact, and don’t retraumatize the tellers in the process.

"As consumers, we can support Black businesses by using the Alaska Black Business Directory. And we encourage you to attend Juneteenth celebrations in your communities, or online."
"Too Much Military Spending Got Us Into This Mess" from costofwar@brown.edu: "A lesson from the pandemic: reduce the Pentagon budget and invest in programs that actually keep us safe. For the majority of the past two decades, the US government has equated Americans’ national security with military supremacy, spending and obligating $6.4 trillion on America’s post-9/11 wars and allocating over two-thirds of the federal discretionary budget — the part that pays for public health, environmental protection, and virtually everything the government does other than programs like Medicare and Social Security — to the Pentagon each year. At the same time, the government has cut funding for public health programs, scrimped on investing in infectious disease research, and stockpiled weapons instead of medical equipment...” See the June 7 Costs of War opinion piece in The Boston Globe from Konrad Schaad, Homer: "Recently, Governor Dunleavy broke all records for putting Alaskan livelihoods last by nominating a Pebble employee, Abe Williams, to Alaska's Board of Fish. In my recent ADN op-ed, I point out it's impossible for Mr. Williams, who has spent much of his career promoting the mine, to remain impartial when overseeing Bristol Bay fisheries... Bristol Bay has maintained near-constant representation on the Board of Fish for 40 years, and appointment of an Anchorage resident to a seat historically held by a rural resident is just another example of the governor’s lack of concern for rural communities, people and fisheries... Gov. Dunleavy already appointed former Pebble employee Marit Carlson-Von Dort to the board. We [sport, subsistence and commercial fishers in Bristol Bay] believe that the current Board of Fish members should retain their seats until new appointees can be properly vetted by legislators and the public. The Legislature must act to deny Mr. Williams appointment to the board."

On March 25, 2020, researchers at the University of Alaska Fairbanks issued the final report of a four-year computer modeling study on the collapse of ... [t]he 47-story World Trade Center 7... the third skyscraper to be completely destroyed on September 11, 2001, collapsing rapidly and symmetrically into its footprint... The UAF research team finds that the collapse of WTC 7 on 9/11 was caused not by fires but by the near-simultaneous failure of every column in the building. Following the release of this report, Architects & Engineers for 9/11 Truth and 10 family members of 9/11 victims submitted a formal request for correction to NIST’s report on WTC 7 based partially on the UAF findings. The request is currently pending.

Insurers owning medical practices stop paying for care from competitors. from Medscape.com: "It seems like they are steering patients away from small, community-based doctors to large groups that they own... That raises questions about whether this type of "vertical consolidation" — the term for a practice occurring across the country — is a strategy that is good for profits but bad for patients... Velylia McIver, 83, decided in November to search for another plan so she could stay with [her doctor]. But it took her more than a month to get [insurance] coverage for some medications..."

from ACLU (American Civil Liberties Union): "Please, send your message to Congress now – and specifically demand:
1. The end to the Department of Defense's 1033 program, which fuels the militarization of law enforcement by arming local and state police like soldiers. Weapons have no role in the policing of our communities or protests, especially military-grade weapons;
2. The end to the COPS (Community Oriented Policing Services) grants that put excessive numbers of law enforcement on the streets and in schools, where they have proven to be dangerous and divisive;
3. The reigning in of Byrne JAG (Justice Assistance Grant) grants, as long as they continue to perpetuate police violence, the destruction of Black and Brown communities, the failed drug war, and low-level arrests. Take Action" from WorldBEYONDWar: "A bipartisan group of U.S. senators has introduced the "Burma Human Rights and Freedom Act" (S.1186) to take nonviolent action to end Myanmar's genocide against the Rohingya and crimes against humanity directed at other ethnic minorities in Burma (Myanmar). Ask your U.S. senators to support and co-sponsor the "Burma Human Rights and Freedom Act" (S.1186) today."

audio & music played with this week's broadcast:

-- "Hello this is The Asymmetric Moose, Rob Mulford with picks of the week of June 14, 2020.
"In celebration of Juneteenth, the annual festival commemorating the emancipation of African Americans from chattel slavery, I’ll share two recordings. The first is Odetta’s version of Ballad For Americans: lyrics written by John La Touche, music written and first performed by Paul Robeson. Patriotic in nature, the song was sung at the 1940 Presidential conventions of both the Republican, and the Communist Party. Being patriotic, the song, I believe, misses some major systemic injustices. To compensate for this inadequacy, I’ve chosen to juxtapose Ballad For Americans with a statement from Mark Charles, a dual citizen of the United States and the Navaho Nation who is running as an independent candidate for president, to build a nation where “We the People” means all the people.

The nature of this station’s license prohibits me, here, from an officially endorsing his candidacy; however, Mark’s message is vital. I hope you find it complementary to the ballad."

--The Loving Kind, written & sung by Nanci Griffith
