|           | In the Alaska Legislature: HB 66 is a bill designed to make voting in Alaska more accessible, modern, and secure. It is an ambitious and relatively large bill - clocking in at 16 pages of reforms - and if passed, this bill would make Alaska's voting system the nation's envy. Our state has significant logistical challenges because of our size and diversity. We have many Indigenous languages, the most diverse neighborhoods in America, a large military presence, and lots of folks on active duty, out fishing halibut and cod, or working on the Slope who need to vote absentee..." Testify 1 pm Monday, April 12. More Hearings to Watch per Louie Flora of the Alaska Center from Sen. Scott Kawasaki: "As the appropriating body, the legislature must decide how to best allocate $1.45 billion dollars in funds Alaska is set to receive in order to help recover the economy to the maximum benefit of the people of Alaska...[Operating and Mental Health Budgets: Your Voice Matters!] [There were listening sessions and opportunities for public testimony last week, but the House Finance Committee will continue considering HB 69 & HB 71 this coming week.] I highly encourage folks to...ensure your voices are heard in the budget process! It is critical for lawmakers to hear directly from citizens. Written testimony can also be submitted via email at House.Finance@akleg.gov. Additionally, if you have any specific areas of concern or questions about the process, you can always contact my office at Sen.Scott.Kawasaki@akleg.gov or 907.456.7423. The White House released its plans for the Pentagon budget and it is not cutting spending — it's increasing it...[$753 billion] a whopping three-quarters of a trillion dollars on wars, weapons, and militarism. To put that in perspective: if you spent $40 every second, it would take you 792.5 years to go broke if you had a trillion dollars [1].And that money has been thrown in the gutter with failed billion-dollar programs, such as the Comanche helicopter, the 40-ton Crusader artillery gun, and the infamous F-35 fighter jet which currently costs $36,000 per hour, and it has a projected lifetime cost of $1.7 trillion... The Pentagon is wasting our money. It's time to put #PEOPLEOVERPENTAGON. | Where? Contact your State Rep & Senator via the Legislative Information Office (LIO) In Fbks: 452-4448

Also call the LIO to testify about bills.

Watch live & past committee hearings by tuning in to 360 North on cable or visiting the Alaska legislative website.

For recordings of previous committee hearings, visit Gavel Alaska.
Write to Rep. Young - redirect Pentagon funds and invest that money into our communities," from winwithoutwar
from Veterans For Peace: "...In the post-9/11 years alone, the United States has spent $6.4 trillion dollars on warfighting and the maintenance of a needless and ill-advised overseas presence. Considering that the Pentagon has returned $80 billion that it could not spend in recent years and could not pass... two financial audits, a reduction seems like a reasonable proposition, to say the least. As military veterans from WWII to the current era of conflicts, who have trained for, and in many cases, fought in U.S. wars, we know that endless wars, failed weapons and the Pentagon’s corporate handouts do nothing to make us safe.

Can you take action today and let President Biden know that veterans want a budget that reflects HUMAN NEEDS and not more overinflated military spending!
1. Contact your Congressional Representative and ask them to ask for a budget that prioritizes social needs and that the Pentagon budget needs to be reduced!
2. Send a Letter to the Editor educating the public on the need to reduce Pentagon spending. You can use these great talking points!

The Investing in Cures Before Missiles (ICBM) Act would stop the further development of the Pentagon's new $93-96 billion ground-based strategic deterrent (GBSD) intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM) and direct those savings towards development of a universal coronavirus vaccine, as Senator Markey called for in February, and towards the battle against other types of biothreats.

To express your preferences on issues to any of our Congressional delegation, you can call the Capitol switchboard at 1-202-224-3121.
To leave comments for the President, call the White House at 1-202-456-1111.

Fast To Stop the Jets - Fast. Meditate. Pray Walk. Take Action. in Solidarity with #NoNewFighterJets "The Canadian government is quietly planning to purchase 88 new warplanes, for a sticker price of $19 billion and a total cost of at least $77 billion. This new generation of bomber jets will be designed to do the same thing the last batch did – carry bombs and missiles that kill civilians (disproportionately children), destroy critical infrastructure that leaves millions without safe drinking water or electricity, and to run environmentally costly training drills. This time they’ll have the added—and terrifying—capacity to carry nuclear weapons. “If ever there were a time to reassess the genuine threats to our security and separate them from the self-interested aims of the weapons industry, this is it.”

"Canada’s current stock of fighter jets have spent the past few decades bombing Afghanistan, Libya, Iraq and Syria, prolonging violent conflict and contributing to massive humanitarian and refugee crises. These operations had a deadly toll on human life and have nothing to do with ensuring security for Canada. Even former Deputy Minister of Defence Charles Nixon stated that Canada does not face any credible threats and “new Canadian fighters are not required to protect Canada’s populace or sovereignty.”

Selective Service System, a soon-to-be landmark [U.S. Supreme Court] case regarding women and the military draft. This landmark decision could importantly lead to the abolition of draft (“Selective Service”) registration, leave Selective Service registration limited to men, or establish a precedent for the expansion of draft registration to women. As grassroots opposition to the military draft and draft registration seems to be systematically ignored by Congress, this panel will feature student activists, academics, and intersectional activists outside of the university who have varying views on why the draft should not be expanded to women... email sebastian.a.munoz-mcdonald.23@dartmouth.edu

Audio & Songs broadcast with this week’s Community News:

"Hello from Rob Mulford, the Asymmetric Moose, for the week of April 11th:

In our last Asymmetrical Moose Inquest Into the Operations of the War Racket we heard testimony from Major General Smedley Darlington Butler and the Red Planet Bomber, Elon Musk. In this week’s Asymmetric Moose Inquest we’ll hear the testimony of, I. M. Ironman, Major General Ross Coffman, curtesy The Alaska Post, Fort Wainwright Alaska.

A. Moose – “General Coffman, please state for the jury, the position you hold with the U.S. Army Enterprise.”

Gen. Coffman - “I am the director of the Next Generation Combat Vehicle Cross-Functional Team.”

A. Moose – “Hmm, sounds kinda racy. General, I’ve heard you say that you have a riveting memory from having met members of the Chinese military. Please explain.”

Gen. Coffman - “When Chinese military visited a U.S. military post in 2012, I recall seeing their shock at what the Army could do. I saw it in their eyes. They didn’t believe our capability. I think deep down that put a fear in them that they had to modernize.”
A. Moose – “Members of the jury, I know that I’m shocked and fearful too, not only by what the military is capable of, but by what they have done and are doing. I ask you to examine the record. Follow the money. Maybe you’ll be as shocked as I.

Tell me General, do you see any possible negative fallout arising out of U.S. belligerence and acts of intimidation like this?”

Gen. Coffman – “Today, China is the top pacing threat for the American Military. That may force the U.S. Army’s fleet of armored vehicles to play a larger role in the Indo-Pacific region.”

A. Moose – “Huh…Say what? Force the U.S. Army’s fleet of armored vehicles to play a larger role in the Indo-Pacific region? Members of the jury, please note the General is not saying that the Chinese are a threat to the people of the United States, but its military presence in Indo-Pacific region. General, just where so you see that threat?”

Gen. Coffman – “China uses a whole-of-government approach, including its diplomatic, information, military and economic arms, to project power across the world. While it once was a regional threat, China now competes with the U.S. globally.”

A. Moose – “Oh my! General, but are these not also programs of the U.S. military establishment. Are you saying to the world, “Do what we say, not what we do?” Where do you see this type of messaging of leading?”

Gen. Coffman – “The Chairman of China’s Central Military Commission recently said that war with the U.S. was inevitable. That was the first time the country’s probably made that statement.”

A. Moose – “Members of the jury, I ask you, given the General’s patriarchal attitude, would you classify the Chair of China’s Central Military Commission’s comment a statement of belligerence, or an astute observation? And General, what have you to say of that?”

Gen. Coffman – “What does that mean? I think it means that you’re willing to strike first. Because if it’s inevitable, why would you wait for your adversary to strike first?” Hehh hehh hehh hehh hehh.

A. Moose – “Bailiff, would you please hand the General a napkin? His chin is dripping. So General, what’s a strapped, testosterone jacked Army to do, anyway?”

Gen. Coffman – “If a conflict were to occur, it would not only be focused on air or maritime operations. The Indo-Pacific region has roughly 27 million square kilometers of land and half of the world’s population. A ground force would be required to take, and hold that land. In order to be decisive, we have to be there with armor to prevent the Chinese to getting into position of relative advantage!”

A. Moose – Members of the jury, I ask you, does this sound like defending our nation or our military occupying another for U.S. corporate advantage? General, Please tell us; what is your involvement in this enterprise?”

Gen. Coffman – “In December, my team helped publish a new solicitation to industry for the Optionally Manned Fighting Vehicle, an advanced technology that could support mechanized infantry operations. While both the Chinese and the U.S. military will have modernized combat vehicles, we will still have the edge.”

A. Moose – Members of the jury, I’m asking you now, remember that money trail I mentioned earlier. What do you think? Is there a corporate executive position waiting for General Coffman, upon his separation from the military? Drone tanks roving roughly 27 million square kilometers of land. Keeping in-line half of the world’s population. Lockheed Martin, General Dynamics, Raytheon, etc. take your pick. It looks like this general may be going places. General, where do you see that edge playing out?”

Gen. Coffman – “What they don’t have, and they will never have, is the professional women and men of our armed forces and our ability to fight as a joint force in a combined arms team for maneuver that’s what our advantage is. That combined with our modernize efforts is what makes us the best military in the world.”

A. Moose – General, If the swelling in your groin has subsided, you are free to step down. Thank you for your testimony. Members of the jury - does the General’s last comment not ring of hype, an attempt at pushing “Team U.S.A. Military Industrial Corporate” sales bunk. Can you identify the racism in the General’s last statement, or its fair size helping of self-deceptive fatal-arrogance? My dear brothers and sisters of the jury, now serving as warfighters, I ask, can you identify the patronization, in his apparent compliment, the attempt to persuade you that your life, limb, and sanity are reasonable expenditures in the advancement of the war industry and U.S. corporate hegemony? You honor, I ask that we may adjourn now, until our next Asymmetric Moose’s Inquest Into The Operations of The War Racket.”

Politicians hide themselves away. They only started the war. Why should they go out to fight? They leave that role to the poor! – After hearing the Ironman testify it seems right to play Black Sabbath – War Pigs.

An old theme, may we soon make it’s wish come true. Joan Baez sings I Wish the Wars Were All Over.

Next two of my old-timey folk favorites, Sonny Terry & Brownie McGhee sing a good intro to the PSA that follows them... Down by the Riverside.
